

Huron sets date for annual meeting

By JERRY DESHARNAIS
ANP Special Writer

The date of Huron Township's Annual Meeting has been set by Huron Township's Board of Trustees for Saturday, March 24 at 1 p.m. in the Miller Elementary School on Hannan Road.

At the meeting, a public hearing on the proposed 1984-85 budget will be held.

At last Wednesday's Township Board meeting, the Board also amended the $798,786 general fund budget. Supervisor A.J. Haener said that the amendments did not increase any totals but simply made adjustments in activities and line items. The board approved the adjustments 7-0.

In another matter, the board was informed by Clerk Mary Lou Carey that due to reapportionment by the State Legislature, effective April 1, 1984, State Representative District number for Huron Township will be 19 rather than 21.

And effective Jan. 1, 1986, the new State Senate District will be number 7.

"The State Representative District does not change other than the number as far as Huron Township is concerned," said Mrs. Carey after the meeting.

"However it does add to State Rep. Richard Sullivan's district from other areas in Monroe County.

"As for the State Senate District, Huron Township will be added to State Senator James DeSana's District," she added.

In other business, Carey proposed at the meeting a resolution in support of HB 5151 which would provide "alternative community care and essential senior services" which would maintain older persons in his or her own home whenever feasible and appropriate.

"Rather than putting them in a nursing home which may take away their self respect," said Carey, "it would be a great cost savings to the state and community."

The costs would be still paid by Medicare but the senior citizens would be visited at home by medical personnel.

The board voted unanimously to support the resolution, a copy of which is being sent to the House Committee and all communities of Wayne County.

In another item, the board voted to support the New Boston Rotary Club's "Project Support" which encourages local residents to shop and buy in Huron Township first and to encourage local residents to support local businesses and organizations.

"Up With Women," a day set aside to recognize women of Huron Township, was also brought to the Huron Board's attention by Carey.

Dorothy Haener, the only woman of Huron Township to have been elected to the Michigan's Women Hall of Fame, will be the guest speaker at a luncheon at Miller Elementary

Inoperable cars removed

"The response was great," replied Romulus Director of Ordinances, Thomas Ellis, referring to his department's efforts to rid the city of inoperable vehicles.

"The article in the paper (Romulus Roman) was very effective. 'Quite a few of our citizens removed vehicles on their own.'"

During the month of January, 117 vehicles were removed by their owners after contact was made by the Ordinance Department which should put a "dent" in the city's junk car population.

The Ordinance Department is also showing its concern in other problem areas such as unkept premises, parking on lawns, zoning violations, businesses operating without proper licenses and unsecure premises.

Mack gets on council agenda

Due to the celebration of Lincoln's Birthday, and the subsequent date change of the Romulus Council meeting, Commissioner Milton Mack will not be present for the February 14, meeting. He has instead asked to be placed on the agenda for the meeting of Monday, Feb. 27, when he will address County issues and the effect on Romulus. He will also be available for questions and comments.

Substance abuse

Dr. Joseph Miceli, associate professor at Wayne State University and Children's Hospital, is the main speaker at the meeting of the Romulus Substance Abuse scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Thurs., Feb. 16.

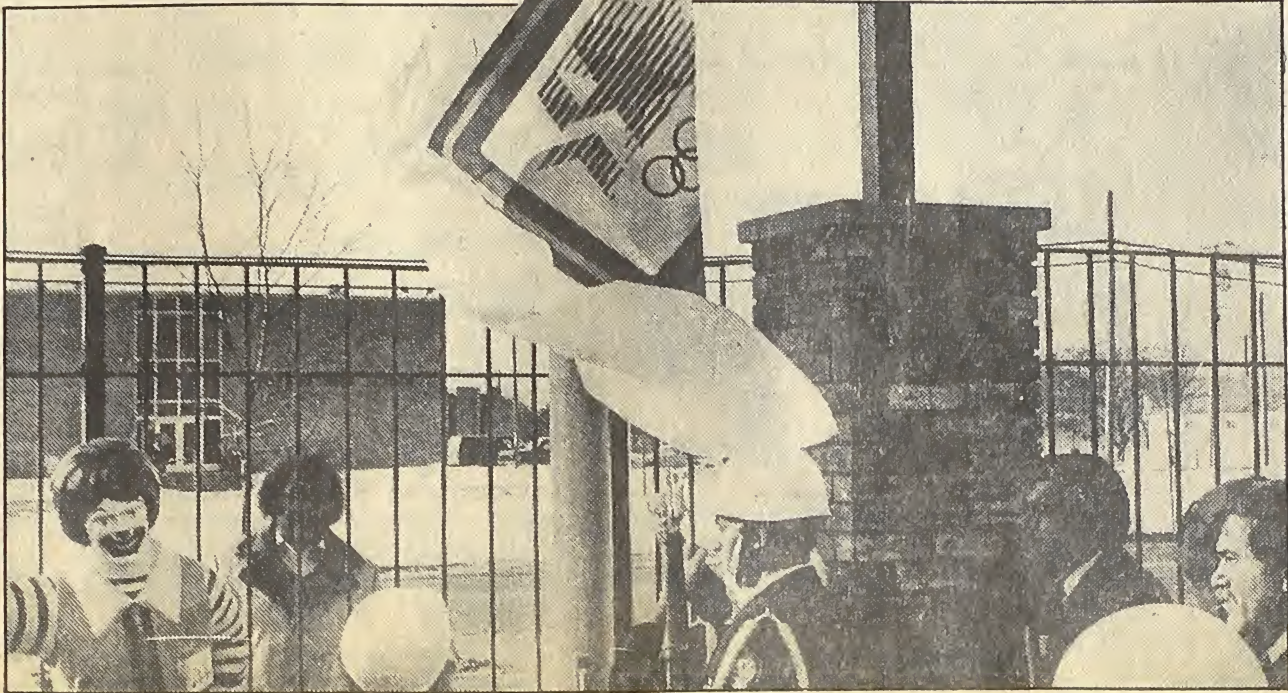

The meeting will be conducted in the City Hall.

Dr. Miceli's theme is "Different kinds of chemicals and their effect on the body."

From one big winner to others

Locally, as well as nationally, sports fans have their eyes on Yugoslavia where the 1984 Olympics are being staged. In observance of the Games and the ceremonies, McDonald's hoisted the Olympic Flag. Taking part in the ceremonies were local officials, councilmen and Mayor Beverly McAnally. For more pictures turn to Page 3.

For lack of information

Council tables motion to hire public information director

Romulus is in search of a Public Information Officer, but the city won't hire one until council receives more information. That was made clear at a recent council meeting when the subject of the position came up and after a lengthy discussion was tabled by councilman Barry Baumann.

The successful candidate for the job would, according to job description put out by the city's administration, "determines public relations policy, and plans, directs, and coordinates a large and diversified educational, public information and promotion program for the community."

Baumann says he believes that a Public Information Officer is needed to promote the city, but he isn't willing to "rush into hiring someone until a lot of scrutiny is done."

"I moved to table the discussion," (on the Public Information Director), Baumann said, because I didn't feel I personally had enough information on the new duties and position of the office and officer who we would employ.

"However, I do feel this city needs such an office and officer."

Baumann's motion to table received support from councilman Jimmie Raspberry.

Councilman Pete Bergeron said he felt that the council had been dragging its feet on "this issue for quite some time and it was time for us to make a decision."

"This is something our entire community needs," Bergeron added, "and we're still stalling."

The move to hire a Public Information Officer also received support from the Romulus Chamber of Commerce and the Romulus Central Business Association. Both organizations were represented in the council chambers to express their views. Also present was Dr. William Bedell, Romulus School District Superintendent.

To create water-sewer assembly

Council supports state bills

The struggle to wrestle some of the power vested in the City of Detroit and the Water Board has reached the State Senate in the form of two crucial bills. Those bills, No. 544 and 545, introduced on November 7, 1983 in Lansing received unanimous support from the Romulus City Council recently.

"The two bills are very important," Mayor Beverly McAnally informed council, "and I believe they warrant our support."

Mayor McAnally requested and received support for a resolution which would assist state legislators in making up their minds about the bills.

Some of the key provisions of the senate bills are as follows:

1) Creates a Metropolitan Water and Sewer Assembly which will consist of a representative approved by the city council or township board of each municipality served by the water and sewer population. The new assembly will elect a Regional Water and Sewer Board consisting of nine members, three from the City of Detroit, and six from the other 100 communities.

2) The water and sewer system is not subsidized by the general fund of Detroit, nor supported by Detroit taxes. All revenues for the system are derived from rates paid by customers of the system, revenue bonds, and federal and state grants for capital construction costs.

3) The bills do not represent a transfer of ownership or purchase or takeover of the system. Rather, it required Detroit to share with all customer municipalities defined cooperative responsibility for operating the regional system.

4) The bills provide for the management and control of the day-to-day operation of the system by the new 9 member Regional Board which will fairly represent all the municipalities in the system.

5) This Regional Water and Sewer Board would deal only with the wholesale water and sewer services.

Buckley gets Inkster police chief's job

Inkster has a new police chief. Anderson C. Young, interim city manager, announced this week the appointment of James L. Buckley to the position of Chief of Police for the City of Inkster.

Chief Buckley is a 1963 graduate of Romulus High School and received his Associates Degree in Sociology from Madonna College in 1973 and his Bachelor of Science Degree in Criminal Justice and Bachelor of Arts Degree in Sociology from Madonna College both in 1978.

Suspect shot as police nab 2 for robbery

Two Inkster men, one a 16-year-old juvenile, were arrested last week by Romulus police shortly after a gas station hold-up in Romulus, police said.

One of the suspects, Maurice Pressley, 19, was shot and wounded in the left side after he rammed his car into a police vehicle, pinning the officer between the two vehicles.

The officer, David Denno, fired two shots at the fleeing vehicle and hit one of the suspects whom police later identified as Pressley. Pressley was taken to Wayne County General Hospital where he was treated for the gun-shot wounds.

Patrolman Denno also was taken to the hospital where he was treated for leg bruises and contusions when he was pinned between the door and the car.

Pressley appeared before Romulus District Judge Henry Zaborowski and charged with armed robbery, possession of a firearm in commission of a felony, assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder and receiving and concealing stolen property over $100.

The juvenile will be handed over to juvenile authorities for prosecution, according to Det. David Early.

"We will be meeting with the Prosecutor's Office to see if we can get a waiver on the juvenile to try him as an adult," Det. Early said.

A plea of "not guilty" was entered for Pressley by the court and he was remanded to Wayne County Jail in lieu of $100,000 bond. Pressley will appear on Feb. 22 for pre-trial examination.

The drama began about 10 a.m. on Feb. 10 when two men drove up to a window at the Total Gas Station, 35351 Goddard and, after producing a shotgun, ordered money from the attendant. The attendant handed over approximately $100 and the robbers fled in their vehicle, heading north on Wayne Road.

When the alleged getaway vehicle passed, officer Denno managed to fire a shot at the suspects.

Officer Denno intercepted the getaway vehicle on eastbound I-94 near Middlebelt and, after identifying the car as a stolen vehicle, gave pursuit. The Romulus patrolman caught up with the suspects on Stanford and Beech Daly in Inkster and forced them off the road.

As he prepared to get out of the police vehicle, Pressley reportedly accelerated and drove the car directly at Denno, striking the door and pinning the police officer. When the alleged getaway vehicle passed, Patrolman Denno was able to fire a shot at the suspects, who stopped and exited from the car.

Pressley was suffering from a gun shot wound to the left side. During the pursuit, Dearborn Heights and Inkster, along with Romulus dispatched police vehicles to render assistance.

Det. Early said that police arrested the two suspects and recovered themoney and a weapon.

City joins McDonald's in salute to Olympics

The Olympic spirit prevailed in Romulus as the McDonald's Restaurant raised the Olympic flag as part of a nationwide program in which all McDonald's Restaurants raised the flag on the opening day of the Olympics.

"I am pleased to participate in McDonald's efforts to spread the Olympic spirit," said Mayor Beverly McAnally. "On this day and the days to follow our nation's athletes begin their quest for excellence in the Olympic Games being held in Sarajevo, Yugoslavia."

The flag was raised by members of a color guard from the Romulus High School's Naval ROTC to the strains of the National Anthem provided by the Romulus High School marching band.

Tom DuCharme, owner of the Romulus McDonald's said: "We, of course, are proud to be a part of this celebration which signifies the opening of the '84 games. We, at McDonald's, are always proud of our nation's youth and athletes and on this day we stand a little bit taller."

Besides Mayor McAnally, representing the City of Romulus, were city councilmen Pete Bergeron and William Wadsworth. Dr. Terri LeCesne represented the Romulus Community Schools.

School March 10.

A fashion show will also be included in the program which starts at 1 p.m. Tickets are $10 per person and are available at the Township Hall and from members of the Chamber of Commerce.

A resolution adopting the plan to advertise by newspaper public notice of the changes in the Senate and Representative District concerning Huron Township was unanimously adopted.

This method of notice was recently proposed to the State Legislature to replace the method of direct mailing which was found to be expensive and difficult.

In other business, the board voted to concur with Supervisor A.J. Haener and Sgt. John Maier's dismissal of three part-time police officers.

The board also voted to commend another part-time officer and to send a letter of regret.

Regarding the proposed landfills in Huron Township, Supervisor Haener told the meeting that all information that anyone wishes to provide to the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) by the deadline of Feb. 29 when the DNR staff reviews the application of the EMS, should be presented as soon as possible. Landfill attorney Thomas Plunkett and Supervisor Haener will appear before the DNR.

Township Treasurer Chris Gamber, in other business, noted to the Board a meeting sponsored by the Huron River Watershed Council to discuss possible recreational projects along the Huron River.

The meeting will be held at Huron Township Hall on Feb. 23, Thursday, at 7 p.m.

A public hearing on the proposed federal block grant fund was held prior to last Wednesday's meeting.

Its purpose was to discuss proposed expenditures of the $71,000.

Of that amount, $43,000 plus interest will be spent on the final payment of a fire truck for Fire Department No. 2 in Waltz.

The $71,000 total figure is 11 percent less than last year's federal allocation of $80,000.

Prescad merger decision near
Final decision in county hands

By EVE SILBERMAN
ANP Staff Writer

Patients of the Sumpter MIC-PRESCAD Clinic may know within a week whether a proposed merger with the Oakwood Hospital Family Practice Clinic will receive final approval.

Vernice Anthony, director of health and community services for Wayne County, said Monday that county health officials will make their final recommendation in the next few days. Since a special meeting with clinic patients on February 6, officials have been reviewing the "pros and cons" of the switch, Anthony said.

A merger between the free Maternal and Infant Care Preschool School and Adolescent Health Care clinic with the neighboring Oakwood facility was informally approved last summer.

Wayne County Executive William Lucas signed the merger contract in December.

But Anthony said that the decision to merge had been made prior to Lucas's taking office, and that the executive had the authority to rescind the agreement.

"We will decide whether to postpone it (the merger), delay it, or leave things as they are," Anthony said.

Al Head, a spokesman for the Detroit PRESCAD office, confirmed that the county health department had authority to make the final decision. While state and federal funds pay for operation of the clinic (intended for low-income expectant mothers and children), Head noted that the Wayne County PRESCAD offices were administered by the county.

"The state has left the merger agreement up to us. I don't think it will interfere," Head said.

"Oakwood is aware of the problem. I don't think they will push it if the merger doesn't go through."

Al Head, PRESCAD Spokesman

Head acknowledged that both PRESCAD and Oakwood officials had signed a merger agreement. "But Oakwood is aware of the problem," he said. "I don't think they will push it if this (the merger) doesn't go through."

Announcement of the merger has resulted in heated protests by current users of the PRESCAD clinic, established in Sumpter in 1969. Apart from their satisfaction with the clinic, patients have expressed dismay over the sliding fee scale applied at Oakwood.

A nurse with the Sumpter clinic said recently that she anticipated many patients would turn to the free PRESCAD clinic in Inkster, instead of switching to Oakwood. "Even $5 a visit is too much if you don't have a job," she said.

But Anthony noted that federal requirements dictated that all the PRESCAD clinics — which originally developed out of legislation in the Lyndon Johnson era — revert to a sliding fee scale. "Sooner or later, all these clinics will impose a fee."

Anthony stressed, however, that "no patient will be turned be transferred over to the Oakwood Clinic, which currently offers no dental services.

Established in 1972, the Oakwood clinic provides medical care to all family members. Larger than the PRESCAD facility, Oakwood maintains a staff of physicians and residents who specialize in family medicine.

While a typical Oakwood visit costs $17, patients requesting a sliding fee scale may be billed as little as $3, say Oakwood staff.

The two clinics are two miles apart on Sumpter Road.

Ghost town to come alive

Do you remember the good old days?

The days when you could get a good square meal for a decent price?

On Sunday, Feb. 19, from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m., McDonalds of Rawsonville Road, will be turning back the clock to the Good old days — for a very special reason.

In 1825, pioneer Henry Snow established a trading post on the shores of the Huron Rier, along what is now known as Rawsonville Road. A thriving village with boardwalks along the river, water and flour mills, a broom factory, a cigar factory, and a population of over 400 souls eventually developed at the site.

All that remains now of this once prosperous village is a few old homes, the one-room school, and a lot of memories.

McDonald's of Rawsonville Road, in cooperation with the Van Buren Township Historic District Study Commission and the GFWC Belleville pancake plus sausage dinner to raise funds to cover the purchase of a State of Michigan Historical Site Marker for the Rawsonville Village. Dinners are $2.25 for adults and $2 for children under 12 and senior citizens.

Descendants of Amariah Rawson — the first permanent settler in the Village — will be on hand with a display of family artifacts, and township historian Cathy Horste will also be available to answer questions. The entire community is welcome to attend.

Sawyer among outstanding

A Belleville woman has been chosen for inclusion in the 1983 edition of Outstanding Young Women of America.

Nancy Nieland Sawyer received recognition in a program designed to honor women between the ages of 21 and 36 who have made special contributions to their professions and communities.

A long-time Belleville resident, Sawyer is president of the GFWC Belleville Area Intermediate Study Club. A charter member of the Belleville United Presbyterian Church, she has held several church offices and taught Sunday School.

Upon graduating from the University of Michigan in 1971, Sawyer was employed as a social worker for Wayne County. She currently makes and exhibits soft sculpture and dolls for arts fairs and exhibits.

Married to Bob Sawyer, she is the mother of David, 6, and

NANCY SAWYER

Katie, 10 months.

About 23,000 Outstanding Young Women will be listed in the annual volume. The women listed are also eligible for the fifty-one state awards for most noteworthy contributions.

Seniors go 'Weh'

Nearly 300 members of the Wayne-Westland Community Schools Senior Adult Clubs gathered last month to hear Cecelia Lee a country-western singer entertain at the western party.

Honored at the event was Larry Laing, 85, the oldest January birthday celebrant in attendance.

Ghost town benefit

Delphine Dudick, Van Buren Township Clerk and member of the GFWC-Belleville Area Intermediate Study Club, sells one of the first tickets to the "all you can eat" pancake supper, to be held Sun., Feb. 19 from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. at McDonalds of Rawsonville Road. Tickets are $2.25 for adults and $2 for children under 12 and senior citizens. All proceeds from the event go toward the purchase of a State of Michigan Historic Site Marker for the 1850's ghost-town village of Rawsonville. Sharry Budd is the happy purchaser. The community and area are welcome to attend. Tickets are available at the Van Buren Township Hall or at the door. When was the last time you had dinner in a ghost-town?

Board tables redistributing plan

The Van Buren Board of Education tabled Monday night a vote on whether to adopt a previously discussed redistricting plan or consider an alternative proposal suggested by a parent.

Stating they needed more time, board members agreed to meet at a special session at 7 p.m. the night of February 20. Board President Robert Fowler warned that the trustees should make their decision by the end of the month "even if we have to hold meeting after meeting to do it."

"We have got to get this thing settled so that a number of people can go ahead with their plans for next year," Fowler said near the end of the meeting, at which about 50 parents were in attendance.

Pam Mendis, the parent who proposed an alternative plan, said she was not satisfied her suggestions would be taken seriously. She said "reliable sources" in the district told her that school officials were reluctant to seriously consider a plan she had put together in a few days when they had spent five months developing theirs.

"I was told that teachers and principals (in the district) though my plan was a good plan," said Mendis. "There's nothing wrong with it."

Mendis developed the plan in conjunction with a parents' committee formed after a stormy January 23 meeting on redistricting. The board, at that time, agreed to table a vote and allow district parents a chance to be involved in the review process.

The main difference between Mendis's plan and the schools was that hers involved moving 527 students — 109 less than the school's plan — next fall. (The redistricting is a result of the closing of Quirk Elementary School this spring, and the need to find "homes" for Quirk students.)

Mendis argued at the meeting that any plan involving a transfer of fewer students deserved

Belleville student is recipient of Hugh O'Brian award

A sophomore at Belleville High has been selected to represent the city in the Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation International Leadership seminar competition.

George Kapitan, 16, will attend the Michigan Leadership Seminar May 18-20 at Saginaw Valley State College. High school sophomores across the state will participate, with two chosen to attend an expense-paid week-long seminar on "America's Incentive System" in Boston this summer. The local sponsor is the Belleville Area Intermediate Study Club, with assistance provided by the Belleville Rotary Club.

The son of Van Buren Township residents Walter and Martha Kapitan, George maintains an A-minus average. He participates on the high school track team, and plans to pursue a career in medicine.

The local competition was open to all high school sophomores, on the basis of an interview and a written statement. Leadership ability and sensitivity to the needs

School plan tabled

top priority. But school officials said they worried that the plan — which would also mean elimination of an elementary teaching position — might, in fact, mean a further scrambling of students.

School Superintendent Elvin Peets said that Mendis's plan would leave too few spaces in elementary classrooms. He pointed out that, for example, the Haggerty School would just have space for two additional students.

Director of Personnel Raymond Kohr, the principal author of the original proposal, agreed. In a step-by-step comparison of the two proposals, he said that eliminating the teaching position would "tighten" all the classrooms. "There's a high likelihood we'd have to do shuffling when school began," Kohr said.

Noting that parents in the Harris-Bemis roads area were especially active in the redistricting protests, Kohr suggested that Mendis's plan would only "switch the problem area."

In response, Mendis said that many children in the Harris-Bemis area have been moved four times in the past seven years. (While the schools' last formal redistricting plan was in 1976, children have been shifted, especially in the Savage and Haggerty schools, depending on school enrollment.)

She also questioned the administrators' argument about a shortage of space, noting that the area "wasn't likely" to have a big surge of growth in the next few years. In addition, Mendis said that her plan provided for two free classrooms in the Haggerty building, while the school plan provided only for two smaller conference rooms to be available.

"I'm not here for myself," Mendis told the board. "My kids are going to Haggerty (from Savage) under either of these plans."

"I just want to see a plan that's fair for the students."

The board's proposal would shift the Quirk students to three schools: 124 to Rawsonville, 149 to Edgemont, and 62 to Tyler. In addition, 80 students would be shifted from Edgemont to Savage; 46 from Savage to Haggerty; and 121 from Savage to Elwell.

Mendis's plan would leave 41 of 66 students slated for Haggerty at Savage, and 121 scheduled to start Elwell from the south section of Savage, the same number of students would also be moved from Savage to Elwell, and from Edgemont to Elwell, as in the board plan.

The Galaxies

To help develop and improve reading skills, teacher Carl Marosi has organized a reading group called the "Galaxies" at Elwell Elementary School in Van Buren School District. The group recently staged Sandra Cole's informative play, "The Mystery at Lexicon Game." The cast included: Inspector Allwords (Melissa Damron), Mr. Iggy Interjection, the victim (Kenny Gray), Ms. Preposition, the victim's neighbor (Linda Pasek), Ms. Pronoun, the victim's great aunt (Kim Pagel), Ms. Lee Adverb, the victim's niece (April Ballesteros), Sergeant Noun (Robert Belinski), Dr. Adjective (Joe Strickland), Justice of the Peace Conjunction (Paula Hunter) and I am Action Man.

It's a Date

Belleville area Senior Citizens will meet at 6:30 p.m., Feb. 16 at Edgemont School. The evenings program will include a video tape of the Elgemont Drama Club's play "Cinderella".

McAnally, Reeves appointed to county committees

Ten Mayors and township supervisors, recommended for appointment to the Wayne/Metropolitan Community Services Agency by the County Executive's Office, were approved unanimously recently by Wayne County Commissioners.

New commander for 300th

Army Reserve Colonel William H. Reiff assumed command of 300th Military Police Command (U.S. Army Reserve) in a ceremony at the command's Inkster headquarters on Feb. 5.

The Goshen, Ind., resident succeeds Army Reserve Brigadier General Ronald D. Worcester, who is retiring from active Reserve participation. The 300th commander's position is a brigadier general's post, and Reiff's selection for the job means he will be eligible for promotion to that rank in a few months.

Highland Park; Mayor James Doing, River Rouge; Mayor Edward H. McNamara, Livonia; Mayor Cameron G. Priebe, Taylor; Mayor Frank K. Lada, Allen Park and Township Supervisors James M. Reeves, Sumpter and James P. Kelly of Redford.

Wayne County Commissioner Richard E. Manning (D-Redford) selected by the County Commission as their representative, had his appointment vetoed by the County Executive. The CEO's action has been referred to the County's Human Resource Committee for further action.

Other appointments approved by the Commission Thursday included Gary Bingaman, Belleville and A.R. Polk of Detroit to the Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Southwestern Michigan, and Detroiters, Marie Weigold and Dorothy Barbour to the Airport Zoning Board of Appeals.

The agency, according to Flanagan, has distributed more than 6 million pounds of cheese and thousands of pounds of meat, canned goods, and dried foods to unemployed families in the suburban Wayne County areas. "3,000 are fed each week at the Agency's 10 'congregate' kitchens," he added.

"Some 1,000 families whose homes are in a fuel shut-off status, may also receive help through federal funding and an agreement with Mich/Con," Flanagan said. "There are 24 sites scattered throughout the county where residents may obtain assistance," he explained.

The Chinese call it chicken egg drop soup; in Italy it's stracciatella. In any language, beaten eggs, seasoned or not, stirred into boiling broth, will turn ordinary soup into a light meal.

Dust a knife with flour before you cut strips of filled dough (for rolls or rugelach). Keeps dough from tearing and filling from sticking.

Fresh homemade pasta cooks much faster than the packaged kind. If you've gone to the trouble of making your own, watch the pot and catch the spaghetti at the moment that it's deliciously al dente.

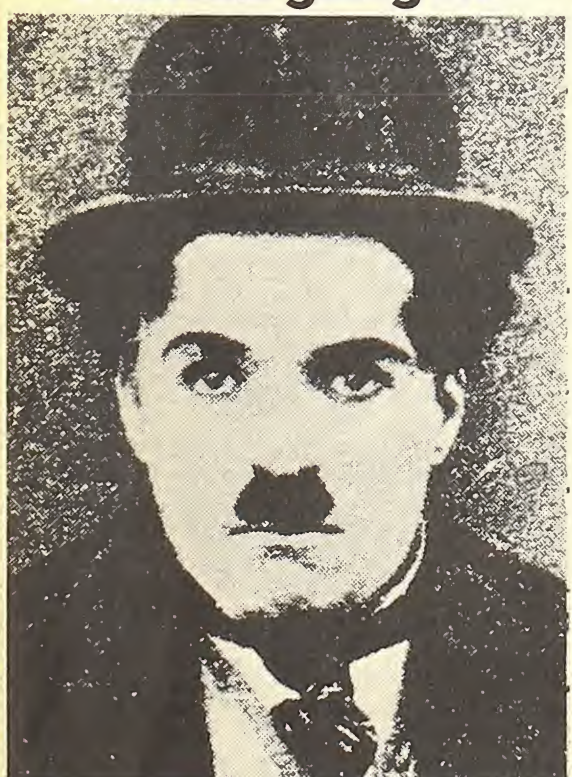

Some spices and seasonings seem to change in the freezer. It's wisest to UNDER season cooked foods that you plan to freeze.

Surprise! Hollow out a brioche (save the top) and fill with pate. Replace the top and slice into wedges for an elegant first course.

"I guess it is news," said the familiar voice on the other side of the telephone, "especially since all of the newspapers picked up the story."

"But I just want the people who know me and the residents of Van Buren, specifically, to know what came of the lawsuit filed against me" continued Jerry McKelvey, a political gadfly who has been very active in Van Buren political affairs in the past.

McKelvey had been sued for slander by Richard Debs, then commander of Van Buren Police, for statements made during a Van Buren Township meeting in 1982.

"I received an 'Order of Dismissal' earlier this month," McKelvey said, "and I thought maybe it should be publicized to set the records straight. Also, after reading your column on Debs, I thought you might be interested."

Debs recently broke into the headlines because he has sued the Van Buren Township officials. He wishes to be reinstated on the police force. He wants his job back as a patrolman.

According to documents filed in Circuit Court and signed by Circuit Court Judge Michael L. Stacey, the case initiated by plaintiff Debs against defendant McKelvey has been dismissed. That document reads: "Stipulation to Dismiss: It is hereby stipulated by and between all the parties to the above-entitled action, by and through their respective attorneys, that said action be dismissed with prejudice and without costs to either party..."

"This matter having come before the court for dismissal upon stipulation of the parties by and through their respective counsel, and the court being fully advised:

And now for the brighter side of the news:

People who look out for "little things" can sometimes make a big difference to a community.

Take Belleville's aptly named commissioner of parks Park Gregory. Gregory works almost full-time in his volunteer post of administering tender loving care to the city's three parks.

Right now, he's engaged in an engaging search for Belleville's first statue... of French explorer Robert LaSalle (of "Louisiana Purchase" fame) who journeyed through the city in 1680.

"He's Belleville's most famous visitor," Gregory explains, "and we want him standing in our Liberty Bell Park to greet visitors."

The park commission doesn't have a lot of funds... but its statue search is netting calls from residents interested in the quest. One ex-Belleville resident, now living in Connecticut, has promised to scrimmage around salvage yards in her part of the world. "People really care. They want the city to have a statue," Gregory says.

A little matter, perhaps. But a gift that the whole city may enjoy, and also a living history lesson.

Every city needs a "little thing" looked after.

'What price labor peace?'

I have spent the last several weeks watching a performance that was interesting and predictable. It was written and directed by Dr. Timothy Dyer, superintendent of the Wayne-Westland Schools and starred many people from this community's school district.

The motive behind this performance was to obtain the best contract possible for the teacher's union without upsetting the community in the same manner that led to the recall of four school board members in 1982.

The first act was to evaluate the situation and select the best props. It was decided the most effective props would be 139 teachers and about 17,000 students. The assumption was made that if the teachers were laid-off, the school day shortened, expressive arts cut, and students shifted around enough, then the public would be willing to accept any contract settlement.

The final act took place at John Glenn on Monday, February 6. For approximately three hours, concerned citizens and students told the horror stories that were direct results of the layoffs and program cuts. (Examples: high school students who had been assigned seven gym classes, football players placed in creative stitchery, and gym teachers teaching first grade without any idea of what to do.) By 10 p.m. the audience had been conditioned.

Many of the same people who removed five board members from office for granting 7-9 percent wage increases in 1981, applauded when four new board members granted the same teachers 13-14 percent pay raises. Congratulations, Dr. Dyer, your play was a success!

Never mind the misuse of innocent students. Never mind the inconvenience to the teachers and public. Forget that seven educational days were completely wasted for many students. The W/WEA, the administration, and four members of the board got exactly what they wanted and at the same time made the community believe they were heroes. (By the way, all four of the yes votes came from the four members who had been selected and endorsed by the W/WEA, and two of them used to be teachers.)

In 1981 we were told we were a rich school district that could afford its own community college without any new revenues. Since then we have closed three schools, sold property, and state aid per pupil has increased, yet we border on bankruptcy. Why? Where has our money gone?

W/WEA union officials have bragged to reporters that our teachers are the highest paid in Michigan. Now they are guaranteed 13-14 percent raises over the next three years. They are guaranteed no massive layoffs will occur in mid-year, bonuses if they have good attendance, and lower teacher student ratios. How can they make such commitments for a district that is in financial trouble?

The only thing the community asked in return was that students be guaranteed a full educational program taught by teachers qualified to teach the classes they are assigned. The board could not make that commitment because they can not see into the future!

The teachers were promised everything. The community was promised nothing. Still, they applauded as loud as the teachers when the contract was approved.

I fear for people so easily manipulated, and so willing to be used. And I fear for children whose future lies in a quality education that can only be offered "if" everything goes well. The great manipulator will be safe and sound in Phoenix, the problems will be ours.

"If" things don't go well, the layoffs and program cuts we experienced for seven days will be a permanent reality. Dr. Dyer's 1981 speech, ("What Price Labor Peace") still haunts me. I knew of course the taxpayers would suffer, but little did I know the REAL price would be paid by innocent children and dedicated teachers.

flying solo

I recently had the opportunity to see David Copperfield, the acclaimed and heralded magician and entertainer.

He dazzles his audiences with magical feats and makes his illusions stimulating with a skill few others are able to master.

When, however, things go wrong, as they are bound to do, Copperfield exclaims, "perfect" in a loud, cheerful fashion that always sends a ripple of laughter through the crowd. With his tone and manner, the clever Copperfield leads his audience to understand that although he is using a word choice that would otherwise indicate that everything is as it should be, it isn't. In fact, he makes it clear that nothing is as it was meant to be.

Reflecting, it occurs to me that often our lives are like that, and if you don't understand the reality of life, what appears to be "perfect" is far from it.

We learn early in the game of life that we have two things to invest during our existence, our time and our money. We also should know early-on that every choice involves a loss. When we choose to invest our time and/or money in one area, we sacrifice the opportunity to invest it elsewhere.

Often we convince ourselves that everything is "perfect," that we have invested wisely and have done the "right thing" with both the clock and the buck.

Like Copperfield's illusions, however, eventually we awaken to learn to it is only that, an illusion. From experience one finds that illusions die hard. The longer we have held a belief that something is "so" or "right," the harder it is to accept the "reality" that it just isn't so.

Copperfield performs on stage the well-known levitation of a beautiful damsel. Reclining in her flowing gown, she is seemingly put to sleep, and while being supported in a horizontal position by nothing but "magic" she is raised and lowered with the wave of Copperfield's hand.

As it happened, I was informed for the first time during the Copperfield performance, by a Jedi master seated next to me, as to the reality of this illusion.

Once you know what is truly occurring, everything makes "perfect" sense. You then understand the how and why. I now know how that particular mirage is accomplished, but the illusion, like so many others, still dies hard.

I find myself still wanting... no, perhaps just habitually gravitating toward belief. Once touched by the reality, however, it's impossible to ever return to illusion.

In life we often find ourselves investing our time in pursuits, in relationships, in businesses and even in community activities, investments chosen, perhaps, based on illusion.

An investment should be made wisely, in an effort to bring a return. Sometimes we find ourselves investing and not getting the return. What appears to everyone to be the "perfect" activity or relationship isn't. It is an illusion.

A "perfect" illusion.

See you next week.

Why does Debs want to hold down 2 jobs?

EDITOR — There have been times when I have been at odds with Managing Editor Tom Mooradian and what he has written in his column, "The Other Side of the Meridian". However, his editorial on former Van Buren Township Police Commander, Richard Debs which appeared Feb. 8 was right on target.

Why would Debs even want to come back to this township? And, since he is already employed as president of local 1776, I would think Mr. Debs understands his attempt at moonlighting is disgraceful. Or doesn't he receive enough from the union?

There aren't enough jobs to go around now and he wants two jobs! Maybe Mr. Debs will resign his present position with the union?

Some 'awards' for Year 1983

EDITOR — I know that you won't publish this because you probably will offend a lot of your friends at City Hall. But here goes anyway.

I have a few "Year of 1983" Awards and let me announce the winners and near winners.

The people who think Dynamite Park, especially Venoy Park, sometimes even the side of Venoy Road in the ditches, and the Rouge River are fine for dumping garbage, in neatly tied bags or loose and and old furniture.

People who think the leash-law is for everybody but their dogs and even your front porch is a giant doggie-litter-box. Where is the dog-catcher?

The same businesses who, every year, think the sidewalks are a great place to pile snow when the parking lots are plowed. Fine!... for customers! Bad! for walking. Look at Third St. to Merriman Rd., along Michigan. I know people in houses who can't get away with it, just not shoveling but the same businesses can pile the snow and customer parking is fine, not trying to get by on a sidewalk.

Another contender: The person who offered Dr. Tim Dyer a better job. Wayne-Westland schools will not be better off without him.

Taxes, schools and businesses

EDITOR — I wish to address this letter to the paradox stirred up by the story that appeared on the front page of The Associated Newspapers' Romulus Roman edition. On one side Mayor Beverly McAnally discusses the possibility and the hope of bringing to this city more commercial and industrial development while on the other hand we have Dr. William Bedell, superintendent of schools, asking residents for more money to keep the school doors open.

Why should Mayor McAnally offer tax reductions to new business. We need a shopping center where we can spend some money locally.

I have lived here since Sept. 12, 1952 and to this day we still can not go to a shopping center unless its at an adjacent suburban community.

Not only that, but I live across the street from a dirty old trucking outfit that doesn't take care of anything and they are letting them put up another building now and we can't hardly get in and out our driveway because so many trucks are going in and coming out all the time. They are always holding traffic up.

I have been fighting the company for better than two years trying to get something done about the dust they create. They won't repave their parking lot around their terminal. They let their yard trucks run around all night without mufflers on most of them and they also park inside the fence and let 15 or 20 trucks run hours on end, while the drivers fiddle around inside waiting to get out. Try sleeping with a house full of smoke and listen to that noise all night, then see how you feel about getting an increase in taxes.

I thought the schools got the message on taxes.

We have grandchildren going to school here in Romulus and I would like to see them have an education, but I can't see myself voting more taxes so we can have another trucking outfit come in here. I say take care of old business before trying to get new business in here. Progress is one thing, trucking is something else.

Get new business, but let them pay their share of taxes too. I live on a fixed income and have to watch my pennies and certainly don't want to pay any more taxes.

Senator thanks supporters

EDITOR — Please convey my sincere and heartfelt appreciation to the thousands of my friends who are your readers, and who helped me fight the costly and unfair recall. I thank those of you who stood by me in so many ways: by refusing to sign petitions when approached and even harassed at your homes and business places; by volunteering your services day and night to check petition illegalities; by calling and expressing your willingness to help in any way you could; by asking how you could get your signature removed because you were misled on the purpose of the petition; and by remembering me in your prayers.

Your encouragement and support was urgently needed to stop this vicious recall and you supplied it without hesitation. It took the outstanding cooperation of the 10th Senatorial District to halt this destructive, devastating, and hateful recall movement, and together we did it. I believe by now it is clearly understood that the huge state deficit was unknown to everyone except, perhaps, the former Governor.

And, when it was discovered by our present Governor, upon examination of the books, it had to be paid.

The people of Inkster pay their bills. They would not let their whole system of schools, colleges and universities, senior citizen benefits, and those local police, fire, and sanitation services which are paid for by state tax dollars be destroyed.

Michigan pulled itself up by our own bootstraps through a temporary increase in the state tax in incomes that amounted to less than two cents (on the taxpayer dollar) and which is rapidly being reduced.

Your loyalty, encouragement, hard work, and prayers kept me going and kept Michigan's recovery moving and it will never be forgotten. Thank you

Metro Dems, helpful club

LETTERS — We would like to thank the Metro Wayne Democratic Club and specifically Mr. Cliff Johnson and Bob Smith for the many services the club and these fine gentlemen have supplied. The club has brought us food when we needed it because we have no car or any other kind of transportation.

The club and its members are always there to lend a helping hand. I know of literally hundreds of people who have received aid from these people in the Wayne-Westland areas. Again, thank you and keep up the great work.

Experts can be frustrating

EDITOR — Never in my 76 years have I encountered so many experts. We have experts in law enforcement, crime prevention, education, hunger, what's good for the public, and experts on how the news should be presented, as well as experts on the human condition.

Webster's new World Dictionary classifies an expert as one who is highly trained and who has acquired much experience in their chosen field.

When one looks closely, we we're apt to find many of the so-called experts have not been on the scene long enough to have acquired the expertise they would have us thank they have at their command.

In many instances we find people with too much authority, but not enough hands-on experience.

Our judicial system is a joke, law-enforcement is a sham, and our educational system is an insult to ones intelligence. Yet today, American taxpayers are pouring millions yearly into expert commissions who are charged with finding answers to the many problems we're beset with in the whole spectrum of society.

While family heads refuse to admit that respect for the law, as well as proper deportment toward our fellow-man must begin with youngsters at home.

We have youth-gangs committing crimes of rape, robbery, and assaults even murder; along with running dope on the streets. One disgrace is our own Wayne County, especially Detroit.

We have youth counselors, Experts? Juvenile Courts supposedly conducted by experts, yet, there is no improvement. We have law enforcement professors top honchos at the head of our police departments, who've come up through the ranks and should be experienced enough to control the situations encountered by the public, yet there is little progress. In too many cases their hands are tied by other so-called experts higher up the scale.

It would seem these higher echelon experts should get out of the plush offices, rub shoulders with the real world get their feet and hands dirty and visit the schools the food and welfare lines, as well as the high crime areas, then perhaps they might begin to question the system and their own expertise.

Perhaps, we need more people to rock the boat, make waves, and forget the status-quo and let it be known that we're entitled too and demand top quality performance from our elected and appointed officials from local City, County State and national Governments.

Also, we must realize that we get what we pay for, and that desirable services and performances do not come cheap.

School principal receives praise

EDITOR — With all the difficulties taking plan within the Wayne-Westland School District, it is reassuring to know that there are still dedicated people concerned with the welfare of our children.

Walter Durant is such a man. As principal of a larger junior high school, his administration duties are overwhelming.

However, when he is made aware of situations involving school children outside the school environment he quickly responds. There has been a continuing situation with several youths loitering before school on various corners. Just call the school and BINGO, you get action. More times than not, Mr. Durant responds. His professional approach, both from a parental perspective and the students is commendable.

It is the individual members that make a great team and we are fortunate to have a "play-maker" like Mr. Durant on "our" staff.

Lincoln offers its opinions

EDITOR — Lincoln School, in the Wayne-Westland Schools, is deeply hurt because of our classes being taken away.

Instrument players are upset because they put hard work into becoming good. Some of our teachers had to leave because of what's happening.

Our opinion is we should have all our classes back and our teachers. Gym, music, art, and instruments are subjects that make us achieve more goals that we were working for. We'd like them back.

Who's free, Mr. President?

EDITOR In a recent State of the Union speech, President Reagan proudly pointed out that "America Free Again." I have been wondering about that statement and what our president meant by it. Maybe someone can answer these questions.

Did President mean that America is still free? Or free to aid the wealthy? The privileged? And free to give the wealthy bigger tax breaks?

Did he mean that America was free and that he should continue to spend enormous sums of money on defense, while many of us are out of work?

Free to continue unemployment? And free to stand in poverty lines? And free to lose our homes and go into bankruptcy? Freeing farmers from their lands because they can't buy equipment or pay mortgage payments?

So America is free? Ask the senior citizen who fears walking in the streets because he or she will be mugged. And that's freedom? Or the parents of those girls who were raped in Detroit—some 50 of them. Parents who have paid taxes for police protection. Is that freedom?

Yes, Mr. President, "American Free Again."

Maybe, in 1984, the American people will be wise enough to free you from your obligations and responsibilities as President of these United States!

Household economics

"How about writing a column on economics?" my editor said as he clamped the typewritten pages together. All editors are weary and sometimes some editors are more weary than others. It depends on how much money the editor can spend on helpers and sometimes that isn't much. This editor was sitting in his office looking over a big room full of empty desks ... that is why he was weary.

"What could I say humorous about economics?" I asked.

"Sometimes you write nostalgic columns," he answered, passing a weary hand over his weary brow. "Write a nostalgic column about economics."

"Oh m'gosh," I answered. "I don't know anything about economics ... just ask my husband."

"Well, I just thought it might be a good time to write one," he answered, and then waved goodbye wearily at me.

"My editor wants me to write a column on economics," I told my husband that evening while he was eating his dinner which had cost more money than I had in my purse ... so I charged it.

"Ha!" he shouted. "You've got to be kidding. You don't know anything about economics."

"That's what I told him, but he said to write one anyway."

"Well I don't know what kind of a column you are going to write," he said as he stabbed his fork into his meat. "It can't be very informative ... coming from someone who can't balance her own checkbook ... even when she hasn't any money in the bank."

"Who could balance something that isn't there?" I was feeling pretty petulant by this time. I put my chin into my hands and rested my elbow on the table.

"Think for awhile about what economics are ..." my husband said, not too unkindly.

And so I thought — and suddenly I remembered a time when I had been working late and I came home at dusk. The whole outdoors was lit up by colored electric lights and as I drove up the driveway my little kid came dancing from behind a bush.

"Isn't it neat, mom? Isn't it the most?"

"What is it?" I gasped.

"Before you say anything, mom, I gotta tell you I just saved you a lot of money."

"How did you save me a lot of money?" I quivered, my awe overwhelming me.

"See all those lights ..." his arms swept a wide arc encom-

Who sees hunger?

I used to love George Pierrot as host of the TV program, "The World Adventure Series". He was funny and droll and he had a habit of startling his guests by saying things that had little to do with the subject at hand. Completely off the wall, I like that in a person.

Once his guest was a man who has spent many months and used up miles of film tracking the abominable snowman. Not one inch of film showed an actual snowman, abominable or otherwise, and the guest host ended his film presentation on a note of mystery: "Does he or does he not exist?"

And George Pierrot turned to him and said, "Well, you can't really say it doesn't exist if you haven't seen one not existing."

Don't ask me why, but I was reminded of that long-ago remark by remarks made by members of the panel set up to study allegations of "rampant hunger" in America.

One member decided that since so many poor neighborhoods were made up of a majority of overweight people, hunger wasn't the problem, over-eating was.

So of course everybody who knew better (and that was almost everybody) filled him in on the facts about hunger bloat. Set him straight about the effects of a steady diet of starchy foods and what it does to the body. Said starchy foods are what poor people eat because they provide the most bulk for the least amount of money. Said malnutrition lurks in a fat body as well as a thin one.

So then, even before that furor died down, another member of that same panel said in a televised panel discussion that since there was no way to count the numbers of really hungry people in America there was no way of deciding whether or not hunger was "rampant". But he doubted it, since he had never seen any real hunger anywhere.

How I wish George Pierrot were alive today. He could turn to those people who supposedly went out searching and didn't find any evidence to their satisfaction, and he could say, "Well, you can't really say it doesn't exist if you haven't seen it not existing."

Who told them what "hunger" was, anyway? Did they know what they were looking for? Does "hunger" have to look like concentration camp victims or could it have a little meat on its bones?

Joyce Hagelthorn

passing the whole back yard. "Well, they really cost $100, but I got 'em for only $60. I saved you $40!!!!"

"B-b-b-but where did you get the $60?" I stammered.

"Oh," he grinned. "I borrowed that from Uncle Gunnar!"

That's what economics is! You save money by buying something you don't need on sale, paying for it by borrowing from someone willing to lend.

I let out a great sigh! "I have my column," I told my husband ... and dear editor ... here it is!

Mona Grigg

be rampant to be legitimate? Hunger is hunger. Poor is poor.

And why a commission to discover Hunger? A trip or two to the soup kitchens would have done it. Now, a commission to repudiate hunger would make more sense. You wouldn't have to actually see it to repudiate it. You would simply have to make a judgment on the degree.

And if the degree you decided on was "rampant", and nobody could decide where rampant began, then you could say, "Well, if we can't disprove 'rampant', then that means nobody can prove it, either."

Which — I remember now — is what reminded me of George Pierrot.

Mouth roars again

THE MONTH THAT ROARED

Howard Cosell has done it again. He has stuck his big mouth in a place where it has no business. Humble Howard is upset because the City of Detroit used public monies to promote a highly successful fight card at Joe Louis Arena this past Saturday.

How any city promotes itself is that city's business. That should be left up to the mayor and city council. If anyone gets upset it should be the taxpayers of the city.

Howard's problem is that he is on a current anti-boxing kick. He wants the sport banned, and has said so on radio, TV and in Senate chambers. He has made such a big deal out of boxing's problems while ignoring the frailties of other sports that he has lost whatever credibility he has had.

Why doesn't he get his own employer, ABC to use all that money they spent to televise the Winter Olympics and instead establish programs to fight rape and other social ills.

ABC's lack of coverage of the Winter Olympics is a disgrace. They didn't learn one lesson from their mistakes of 1980. WXYZ, ABC's local affiliate, has to be very happy that most of the Detroit area can't receive channel 42 out of Leamington, Ont., since it could result in the worst ratings in the history of television.

WHEN DID THEY BUILD THAT?

When the Edmonton Oilers hockey team came to town on Sunday for a Monday evening game with the Red Wings they wanted to practice that afternoon at Joe Louis Arena. A local bus was dispatched to pick the team up at the hotel in the Ren Cen. A less than five-minute ride took longer than expected when the driver took them to Olympia Stadium which hasn't been used for over four years. No printable report on what coach Glen Sather had to say.

A KINK IN THE KNIGHT'S SHINING ARMOR:

Bobby Knight has proved once again to be an enigma to us all. His tirades are legend. What mystifies us all is his penchant for self discipline; he demands this of all who are around him including his players, his coaches and even the press.

But what Bobby lacks is the self discipline within himself, or the, "do as I say not as I do" attitude. He shows no self discipline in his dealings with game officials, with other coaches, his players of any authority. He is a man out of control; he does not practice what he preaches.

He may have been right about Bill Frieder during his recent escape in Ann Arbor. I don't know, it may be an unwritten rule that one coach may not ask for a technical foul on another coach, but on the other hand what is the difference between asking for a personal foul and a technical foul. It is to Frieder's advantage since he gets a free throw and the ball out of bounds — if he wins by one point then it could be called smart coaching.

The point remains that Knight created the situation and then could not handle it with any self discipline. To make it even more ludicrous, he spouted off to the press with obcenities that made even the more hard core media types shake their heads in wonderment.

But the story gets even better as Big Ten Commish, Wayne Duke, (See MOUTH, Page C-2)

THIS COVER LETTER PROBABLY WON'T GET YOU ANYWHERE !!

Dear Letter Writer:

I need your help in writing a resume. I have just graduated from college and am ready to launch my career.

In addition, and equally as important, I want you to help me write a cover letter that is just for fun. I want to be able to take this "funny" cover letter to my Dad, Jerry, together with my resume and act as though it is the letter that I am going to use. I have worked for the same large grocery store chain for more than 12 years.

Sincerely, Doug Sweet

Dear Sir/Madam:

As you know, I have single-handedly managed and developed The Food Store for, in excess of, 12 years. Without my professional efforts and expertise, The Food Store would have folded and succumbed to the other competitive chain stores long ago.

I am forwarding my resume to you as I wanted to give you the opportunity to secure my talents for your organization before I offer myself on the open market. Once I implement this step, you know that you will have lost me. You have until midnight tonight to respond.

Inasmuch as my time is far more valuable than yours, if you would care to speak with me, you may come to my office before the close of business today.

Possessing compelling intelligence, cogent good looks and unsurpassed communications skills, I am the answer to your prayers.

Knowing full well that you would pay any amount for my services, I am prepared to negotiate the following employment contract.

My salary will be $1,000,000 a year, with a 10 year contract. This amount will be paid in a lump sum on Jan. 1, of each of the 10 years. I will be required to work six hours a day, three days a week with an additional six months vacation time during each yearly period. This six-month period will provide me with the necessary float time so that I may travel and continue to implement the lifestyle that I have become accustomed to conducting.

later announces that the matter has been settled internally. No explanation from Duke's office was forthcoming, no hint of disciplinary measures, not even a slap on the hands. Duke has once again demonstrated that he is intimidated by the more vociferous coaches. Although nothing can be done about it now, one question: do we want Bobby Knight to coach our kids in the Olympics this summer? He has already embarrassed the United States with his actions in Puerto Rico a few years back. He took the attitude that he was right and they were wrong so there is no reason to go back and respond in their court of law.

He is now a fugitive of justice in Puerto Rico. What if he does the same thing in Los Angeles? Will Indiana not schedule games in California in fear that their man will be arrested?

And where is the NCAA during all of this? Here is a body that likes to pontificate as to how our nation's college youth should be treated. I'll bet that they will take a hands-off stand on the issue.

SUPER BOWL IS THE ANSWER

Mike Berkey of Livonia has won two tickets to a Red Wings game for correctly identifying the Super Bowl as the answer to our trivia question: What is the only sporting event created by a U.S. Congressional decree?

Legislation introduced by the late Sen. Phillip Hart of Michigan occurred during anti-trust hearings involving the National Football League and the American Football League. Included in the Congressional action was the determination that a championship game would be played on the first Sunday following Jan. 20 each year.

Special thanks to Congressman William Ford for helping us in our research.

proceeds will benefit the Association for Retarded Citizens.

Carrier of the Week Dennis Dobrick

Dennis Dobrick has been on the job for nearly two years. The 14-year-old has been delivering the Romulus Roman to subscribers on Route 23, and it may take as many more years before the Romulus Junior High School student reaches his goal.

Dennis was selected by the Circulation Department of Associated Newspapers as this week's Carrier of the Week for his outstanding service to his customers.

An eighth grader at Romulus Junior High, Dennis has no favorite subjects in school, but he does have a favorite sport, the only thing that came between him and his newspaper route... football.

Dennis plays inter-city football and is a member of the Belleville Cougars football team. When practices and his newspaper route clashed, it was the latter that was put on hold. Although Dennis won't say it, his father is quick to shout "he's one of the best local football players in the area."

Dennis has been saving the money he earns delivering the Romulus Roman to someday buy a car. Even though he's yet to learn the finer points of driving, he's sticking to earning what he'll need for his first set of "wheels."

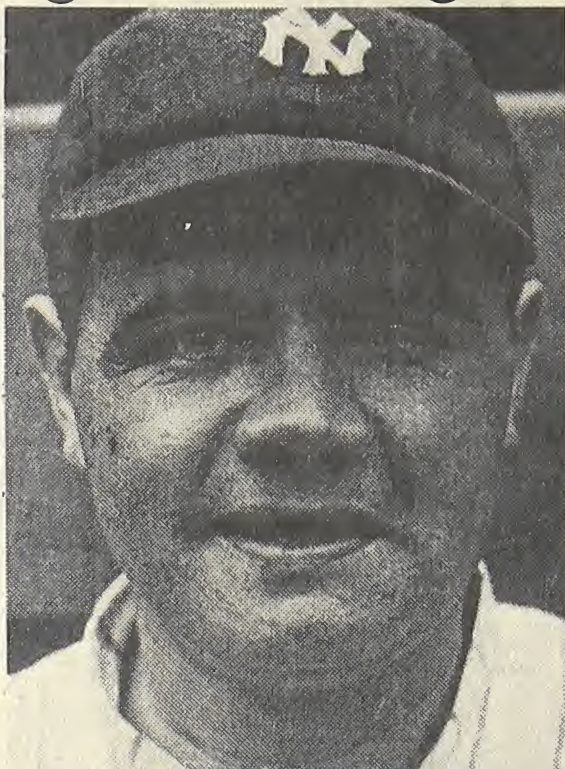

He hasn't started thinking about his life after school, but he does have thoughts on what it takes to be a good newspaper carrier. According to Dennis, it takes a courteous attitude and delivering the newspapers on time to make it to the top as Carrier of the Week.

Dennis is the son of Linda Dobrick and Gerald Moore.

Romulus stuns No. 1 ranked Willow Run
Sellout crowd sees Eagles nip Willow Run, 59-56

Playing its finest game of the season, Romulus cagers shot down Willow Run's Flyers, 59-56. The loss cost Willow Run the top billing in the state's Class B ranks and boosted Coach Al Wilkerson's and the Eagles' cage stock.

"It was a big win for us," said Wilkerson, whose cagers went on to destroy Taylor Truman 68-46 Friday night in their Metro-West League finale. "We just had to win a big one and this was it. And I also feel that our kids wanted this victory a little bit more than Willow Run."

The two victories, last week boosted Romulus's over-all record to 11-3 on the year. They finished 4-2 in the league behind Oak Park whose untarnished 6-0 record gave the Redskins the inaugural Metro-West championship.

Both Romulus and Willow Run came out shooting in the initial period as Flyer Andre Bond connected on his first six shots. The one-man show was balanced on the other side of the score sheet by Grant Long and Terry Mills who managed to give the hosts board control and a 20-18 first period lead.

Neither team was able to grab more than a four point lead throughout the entire 32 minutes.

The sellout, standing-room-only crowd, saw the Flyers come back to grab a 32-31 halftime margin which was erased by the Eagles in the third period thanks to a 16-12 edge. Both teams collected 12 points in their duel for the final period.

"Our game plan was to stop their high-scoring guards (Don Hall and Ozzie Mims)," Wilkerson said, "and the two only got 12 points between them thanks to the exceptional defensive work by our Terry Roache, Stevie Glenn and Byron Lewis."

The outcome of the game was decided in the final 25 seconds when Mills managed to steal a delinquent Willow Run pass and feed it off to Long who drove in and dunked it for the two go-ahead points (58-56). When Willow Run came downcourt to respond, the Flyers were slapped with a traveling violation which angered the Flyer coach who received a technical foul. Roache failed to convert. With eight seconds left, the Flyers failed to get the ball back and fouled in their attempt. Long was awarded a personal foul and made it, sealing the crucial victory with one second left.

Long finished the evening with 22 points, while Mills also was in double figures with 14. The 6-7 sophomore center also accounted for 10 rebounds and nine assists.

Roache, who had 10 points, sank a couple of critical free throws to keep the Eagles in the game. With 1:20 remaining he sank back-to-back charities that gave his team a four point edge. That lead was erased when Willow Run's Zerek Wynn and Tyrone Willis hit on two field goals with 35 seconds left.

Although they got off to a slow start against Taylor Truman, Romulus broke open a 14-13 first period game by outscoring their league rivals 26-10 in the second half as Mills tossed in 16 of his career high 33 points in the first half.

Ahead 40-23 at the intermission, Romulus was never seriously threatened after the initial half.

Derrick Glenn led Truman with 15 points and his brother, Anthony, added 10. Joining Mills in the two-figure scoring bracket were Roache and Long with 12 and 10 points, respectively.

Romulus got a look at its district rival, Ypsilanti, Tuesday night. They have Friday night off.

Glenn rolls past upset-minded R.U.

Remember the "Miracle of 34th Street?" On this particular Friday night, there was no such miracle on Kinloch Street as the Redford Union Panthers fell to the league-leading Rockets of Westland John Glenn, 67-41.

It was only a week ago that the Panthers, losers of 33 straight games, had conquered state-ranked Thurston in a monumental upset. Not only did they defeat the Eagles, but they beat them by 14 points.

This time, Glenn was determined not to be the second victim of the Panthers' new-found confidence. And that they were not as they led all the way to post their sixth league victory in seven attempts. The Rockets raised their overall record to 9-6 and solidified their hold on first place in the Northwest Suburban League.

Coach Gordie Davis, whose teams have never lost to Redford Union, was pleased with the victory.

"We played well in the second half. The turning point of the game was when Baydarian penetrated and fed the ball to Ward. We got more consistent in the second half," Davis added.

Glenn was coming off an 80-52 loss at the hands of crosstown rivals Wayne Memorial and needed to win to give them an impetus for the rest of the season.

Davis said, "I didn't see any effect. To us, these are the key games — the Friday night games. Naturally, we'd like to beat Wayne and those other Tuesday opponents, but these are the big ones."

Glenn came out of the starting blocks fast as all five starters scored in the first quarter. With Mario Grazulis and Don Ward controlling the boards, the Rockets were able to set the pace of the period.

"We held them to one shot. Marvin had 15 rebounds, and Don has been playing more steadier, getting in to the flow."

Grazulis scored four points, Ward and Jeff Hawley three apiece to key the Rockets' 13-8 quarter.

Redford Union, meanwhile, kept close thanks to four points from Keith Ruloff (6-1, 150, Sr.). Ruloff ended up with 16 points on the evening.

Unfortunately, for the Panthers, no one else scored more than four points for the entire game and, that turned out to be their Achilles heel.

Glenn kept up the pace in the second quarter as they outscored RU, 15-10, to take a 28-18 halftime lead. Hawley led the way with nine points, including three free throws. His drive to the basket at the end of the period resulted in the two points that gave them that 10-point margin at intermission.

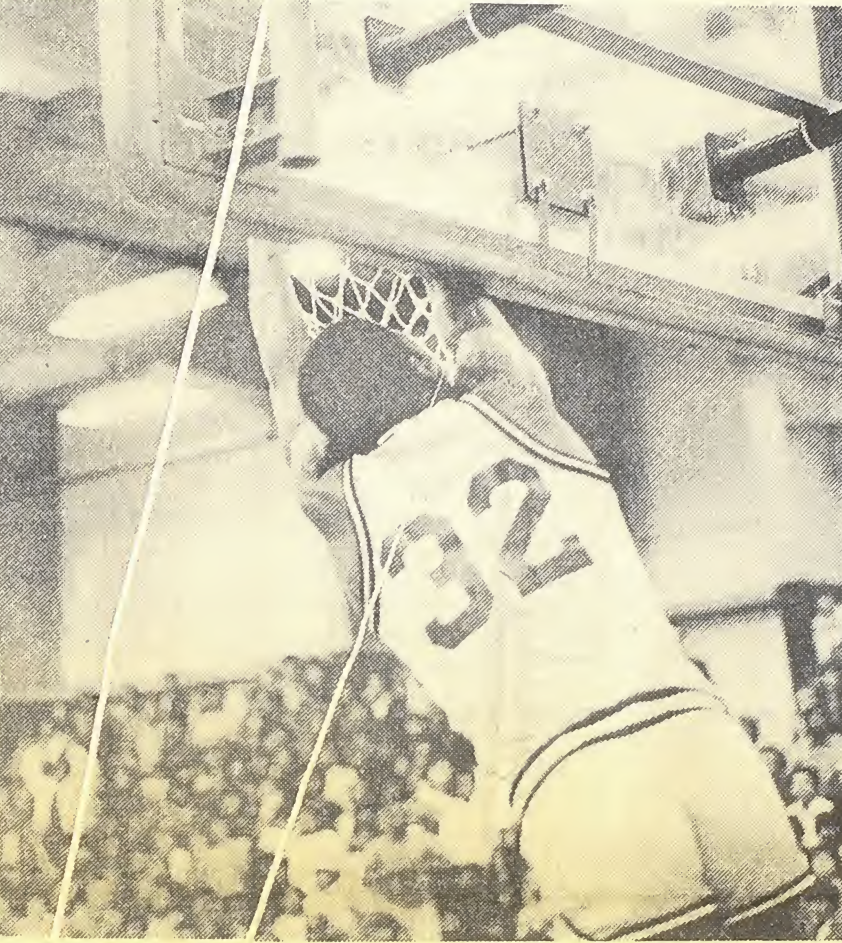

"Hawley played like he always does... nice and steady. He got his outside shot going and finished up the fast break," said Davis.

Redford Union came out in the third quarter, determined to get the deficit reduced to a more manageable one so that they may make a run at their second upset in a row. Ruloff got hot, and hit eight points in the period, and Dennis Bushart, who had led the Panthers to their upset win over Thurston, hit four.

Each RU basket was answered by one from a Rocket. Hawley continued his hot hand with six points and Grazulis added four. Mike Baydarian, too, had four points, but his greatest service was performed when he made two beautiful inside feeds to Ward, who laid them in for four points. Those two baskets produced a 46-31 lead at the 25 second mark. And they never trailed.

Slicing through
Romulus' Grant Long puts the finishing touch on a fast break with a "dunk" that gave the Eagles a crucial victory over Willow Run.

Thornton, Miller sign with GVSC

Two members of the 1983 football squad at Westland John Glenn have signed national letters of intent to further their educational and football careers at Grand Valley State College in Allendale, Michigan.

Mike Miller, a 6-3, 235-pound offensive tackle, and Craig Thornton, a 6-1, 175-pound defensive back, signed their letters of intent last week to play football at the college, a Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference affiliate.

Miller, who made the ANP All-Area team this past season, is "a two-year starter for us at offensive tackle and made varsity as a sophomore. He had a tremendous career for us," said Glenn head football coach Chuck Gordon. Miller sports a 3.2 GPA.

Thornton, who was both All-League and All-Area as a full-back, rushed for 581 yards on 109 attempts and scored seven touchdowns. He also had several 40-plus yard touchdown runs, including one of 53 yards. As a defensive back, he picked off three enemy passes.

Thornton, who sports a 3.8 GPA, is, according to Gordon, "a versatile player. He started as both a running back and defensive back. He began the season as a tailback, then switched to fullback."

Gordon is "confident that they both will do very well at Grand Valley."

Miller and Thornton are the third and fourth players from Glenn to attend Grand Valley. Two members of the 1977 squad, Bill Lee and Paul Svabik, also played football there.

Wayne swim win streak ends
Monroe moved to top of Wolverine 'A'

Wayne Memorial wasted a double-event winning performance by Steve Soules as coach Jom McPartlin's, previously undefeated swim team lost its first Wolverine A Conference dual meet to Monroe, 93-79.

The victory lifted the Trojans into the driver's seat of the 1984 championships scheduled for Feb. 23-24 at Trenton.

"Monroe has an excellent team," McPartlin commented after the meet. "We're going to have to take another look at our line-up to see if we can improve upon it."

Soules captured the 50-yard freestyle event in 23.5, then he returned to the pool and covered the 100-yard butterfly in the winning time of 57.4.

Wayne, 5-1, in the newly-formed conference, sported a 11-2 over-all record when it swam area rival, Livonia Churchill Tuesday night. The Zebras will have Thursday off to prepare for the league championships.

In a sophomore meet hosted by Chelsea, Wayne's Keith Head earned a gold medal when he finished first in the 100-yard breaststroke. He was clocked in 1:06.6. Kevin Martin finished runner-up in the 200-yard freestyle (1:58.2) and the 500-yard freestyle (5:11.4).

The six-school meet also included swimmers for Westland John Glenn, Fordson, Milan, Belleville and Chelsea.

Title races too close to call

Unanswered questions remain in W-W Over 30

And now there are only four games remaining in the Wayne-Westland Over 30 Hockey season.

However, there still remain a few crucial unanswered questions ... like will Little Bill's Trophies be able to catch Jake's Lounge in the Berrington Division?

And can Futurama erase the one-point margin between it and Johnson's Bakery in the Bokowski?

Time will tell, but in the meantime:

Jake's Lounge was defeated by Little Bill's Trophies 3-2 as George Murphy scored two goals and Jerry Robertson scored the third goal.

Dave Milam picked up two assists with Norm Beasley, John Couture and Bill Creekmore each netting one apiece.

Jake Davidson and Dennis Broge scored Jake's goals. Ernie Kelm and Dave Zajac assisted. Paul Kos received two assists.

Futurama skated to a 4-2 victory over All Sorts Sports as Mike Trudel scored all four goals for Futurama. Ron Tyranski received three assists and Bob Capler, Jerry Tapp and Dave Zielinski finished with one assist.

All Sorts Sports responded twice in the final period as Tim Potts and Craig Averill found the net. Bob Jones assisted both goals with George Sharpe picking up one assist.

Johnson's Bakery handed Family Heating a 6-2 setback as Dale Fawkes scored a hat trick, Dave Frankling scored twice and received two assists; Al Polk accounted for the remaining goal. Phil Cerne received three assists; Otto Mason picked up two assists with Rick Mullen, Chuck Heebsh and Ken Klinck netting one each.

Don Strauss and Nick Palise scored for Family Heating with Palise also getting an assist. Dan Kubany received one assist in the game.

Johnson's Carbonic scored five goals in the final period to hand Tastee Freez a 6-4 loss. Ron Hays and Ron Johnson scored twice; Tom Mazorowicz tallied for one goal and two assists; Larry Holt scored one goal and picked up one assist. Two assists went to Curtis Oger and Perry Toepfer, while Nelson Vanderburgh and Jerry Peterson received one assist.

Jim McMaster tallied twice for Tastee Freez with Arnie Cox and Chuck Jennett accounted for a goal a piece. Picking up assists were Marv Borycki, Terry Johnson, Keith Middaugh, Conrad Madalend, Mike Villemure and Ken Carter.

There may be something to what they say about number 13. It's supposedly a bad luck number. The number and the bad luck popped up this week when undefeated Cherry Hill routed Dearborn Heights Crestwood 13-33 for its 13th consecutive dual swim meet victory of the year.

However, Coach Debbie Karabees lost all-stater Brian Cotter to an injury. Cotter whose performances in the 50 freestyle and 100-yard breaststroke have given the Spartans a "sure thing", slipped in the pool and broke his wrist.

The outstanding Cherry Hill swimmer will be sidelined for at least three weeks and probably won't be ready for the league championships scheduled for the first week of March.

"It's a disappointment to him as well as our team," Karabees said. "Brian swims almost every event well, but accidents will happen."

In the meantime, Cherry Hill swept all 11 events from Crestwood to stay unbeaten in the Tri-River. Earlier in the week they had destroyed league newcomer, Annapolis, 124-43.

Rod Wohlfeil accounted for two first places against Crest-then came back with a 1:12.9 in winning the 100-yard breaststroke. Matt Pryor, a freshman was clocked in 24.4 in winning the 50-yard freestyle and touched in at 1:02.1 in claiming the 100-yard backstroke.

"It's a disappointment to him as well as our team. But these things do happen."
Coach Karabees

wood as he set a pool record in the 200-yard freestyle (1:50.1), eclipsing the old mark of 1:53.7. He also captured the 100-yard freestyle in 50.0 then teamed with Martin Baxter, Danny Spears and Jim Schoggins to win the 400-yard freestyle relay in 3:38.7.

Danny Bryson also was a double-event winner as he posted a 5:30 for the 500-yard freestyle

Cherry Hill will place its 13 meet winning streak on the block this week when it clashes with Allen Park, a former Class A school that has slipped into the Class B ranks. That meet was scheduled for Tuesday.

On Thursday, at 4 p.m., the Spartans will travel to Southgate for its final conference meet of the season.

This year
your IRA will be a tax saver.
Someday it could be a life saver.

When you open your IRA at Manufacturers Bank, you'll get a hefty tax break for 1983. Someone who makes $30,000 a year, for instance, would save an estimated $650 in taxes on a $2,000 IRA contribution. In a few years, your IRA could give you an even bigger break. It could help you live the kind of retirement you always dreamed of. And when you look at it that way your IRA will really be a lifesaver.

At Manufacturers Bank, we offer high-yield 48-month and 72-month IRAs. We offer something else, too: a way to help you finance your IRA through our revolving lines of credit.

Even after you consider the interest you'll pay, you'll still come out ahead with your tax break.

Helping you establish your IRA is just another new way we've found to help plan for your future. And looking out for your future has been one of our ideals for over 50 years. So come to any Manufacturers branch. Once you hear what we can do for you, we think you'll say, "Manufacturers...that's my bank."

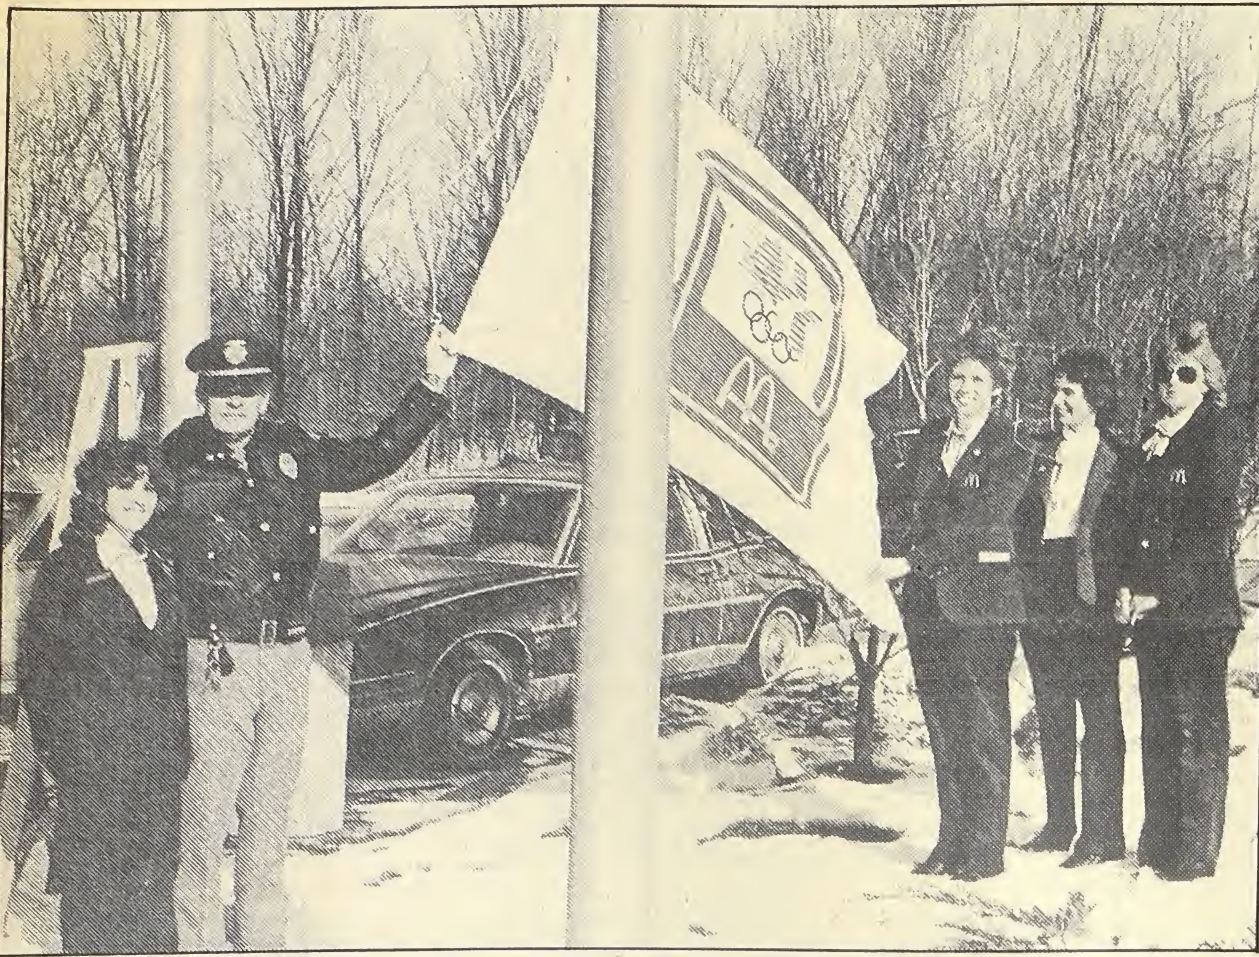

Substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal.

Old ideals, New ideas.

Tribute to Olympians

Olympic spirits soared last week as McDonald's in Belleville raised their Olympic flag in tribute to the 1984 Winter and Summer Olympic Games. Members of the Belleville High School band were present to take part in the ceremony (above) and hoisting the flag include: Barbara Kleinhans, assistant manager of the local restaurant (picture at left, from right), Belleville Police Chief Willard Dockter, Donna Lesperance, Terri Suits, area supervisor for McDonald's, and Cathy Martin. The flags were raised on the same day the Olympic flame was lit in Sarajevo, Yugoslavia, site for the 1984 winter games. McDonald's is an official sponsor of the Summer Olympics to be held in Los Angeles July 28 through August 12. McDonald's built the $4 million McDonald's Olympic Swim Stadium, which will be used for the aquatic events in the summer games. It is the first Olympic venue to be provided by the private sector.

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING MICHIGAN MUNICIPAL LEAGUE TO INAUGURATE PERSONNEL TESTING DEVICE

WHEREAS: The City of Romulus hereinafter called Employer, contemplates that it may utilize the services of the Michigan Municipal League (League) for personnel testing and allied services as a part of its hiring and/or promotion of employees, and

WHEREAS: despite the best efforts of the League and the Employer to avoid violation of the Equal Employment Opportunity Act and other legislation of the Federal and state governments relating to personnel practices and other statutes relating to discrimination on account of race, national origin, sex, age or handicap, the likelihood of litigation making a claim of such discrimination is substantial, and

WHEREAS: The defense of the Employer and of the League to any such litigation can most economically and feasibly be carried out as a unitary defense.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: that the Employer does hereby agree with the Michigan Municipal League as follows:

(1) If it utilizes the personnel selection or other personnel services of the League such utilization shall be subject to the provisions of this resolution.

(2) If a complaint, proceeding or suit is brought or claim is made based on a charge of unfair or illegal employment practices against the Employer or the League or both, or against any employee or agent of the League by one or more persons, which complaint, proceeding, suit or claim is in any way related to the testing contemplated by or carried out under this agreement, the Employer will defend the League and its employees or agents engaged by the League to assist with administration of oral examinations, assessment centers or other activities in personnel services contracted for by the employer with the Michigan Municipal League at no expense to the League, its employees or agents, and in the event damages or costs are awarded against the League, an employee or agent of the League, the Employer will pay the same when award or judgment becomes final. The League will cooperate with the Employer as the Employer may require in its defense of any proceeding or suit. League expenses, including employee time necessarily expended in connection therewith or in attending any court or tribunal or administrative agency at the request of the Employer, shall be paid by the Employer to League upon submission of a bill for such expenses. Reimbursement for staff time shall only be that time required over that normally required in processing an uncontested examination. If any such litigation does not name the League as a party to the action but the employees of the League are required to expend time in assisting the Employer in the defense of the litigation or in answering official interrogatories or depositions duly served upon it by other parties to such action, the Employer will pay the same rates to the League for employees' time expended in connection therewith as are agreed to by the Employer for the personnel services of the League. This clause shall be applicable even if such proceeding or suit is groundless, false or fraudulent, but the Employer may make such investigation, negotiation and settlement of any claim or suit as is deemed expedient. This resolution shall be valid until terminated by action of the legislative body of the Employer but any such termination shall be without prejudice to claims arising prior to such termination. Ten (10) days written notice of such termination shall be given to the League.

Among the four patients from the Ann Arbor VA Medical Center who have survived the initial trial for a chance to perform in Washington D.C. is a Romulus resident.

Winners of the local trials include Linda Askew who is a vocal and instrumental finalists for the Fourth National Music Festival for Veterans.

Miss Askew has entered the Broadway and Original Composition categories.

The festival, which is sponsored by the Veterans Administration "to give patients a chance to demonstrate their talents and abilities," according to Stan Bell, chief of Recreation service, who oversaw the event. The competition is open to inpatients and outpatients at the facility.

On Jan. 20, participants performed before a panel of judges and winners were videotaped for competition at the regional and national levels.

Winners of the national competition will be invited to Washington from May 2 to May 5 to perform before the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped.

Other local winners included: Walter Blackwell of Ann Arbor, in the Vocal Contemporary category; C.C. Champion of Ypsilanti, in the Country and Western, Religious and Folk categories; and Dick Griswold of Toledo, in the Instrumental Contemporary category.

Regional trials are scheduled for Feb. 24.

Romulus woman says college is rewarding

Rosemary Sullivan enrolled in Mercy College of Detroit's Weekend College for a number of reasons. In addition to wanting to advance in her career, the Romulus resident thought she would find the education itself personally rewarding.

But as a full-time bank teller, Sullivan couldn't see how night school would fit into her schedule. That's when she heard about Mercy's Weekend College, where classes are held on Saturdays.

"I feel the Weekend College program offers an excellent opportunity for persons who work full-time and who have commitments during the evening to obtain a college degree," she said.

Sullivan was recently awarded a Bachelor of Arts de-

Calling Romulus cagers

In an effort to provide effective after school programs for the city's youth, the Romulus Community Schools and the city's Parks and Recreation Department are conducting an after school fifth and sixth grade basketball program.

"We are completely overwhelmed at the success of this program," said Recreation Director, Dennis Davidson. "We have approximately 260 kids participating."

The Recreation Department is providing the coaching, referees and equipment. The Community Schools have made gym space available and have provided the after school activity buses.

The key to the success of the program has been the school's participation, according to League Director, Ron Bayes.

"I think the key to our success has been the activity buses and the commitment that we have gotten from the elementary school principals," Bayes added.

The games are being played on Tuesdays and Wednesdays at North Junior High and at the Community Education Building on Thursdays.

ings last about four hours. Students supplement classroom work with directed outside study which enables them to cover the same course content and meet the same academic standards as their counterparts in traditional college programs. Classes meet during the Fall and Winter semesters and Summer session.

WEC students have access to Mercy's library and extensive media resources. They are able to transfer credit from previous college courses and to receive academic credit for pertinent professional experience. In addition, they are eligible for financial aid.

More information about Mercy's Weekend College is available by calling the admissions office at 592-6030.

World of science comes to Romulus

The world of science provided elementary students with a new outlook on energy at Halecreek and Haiti Schools.

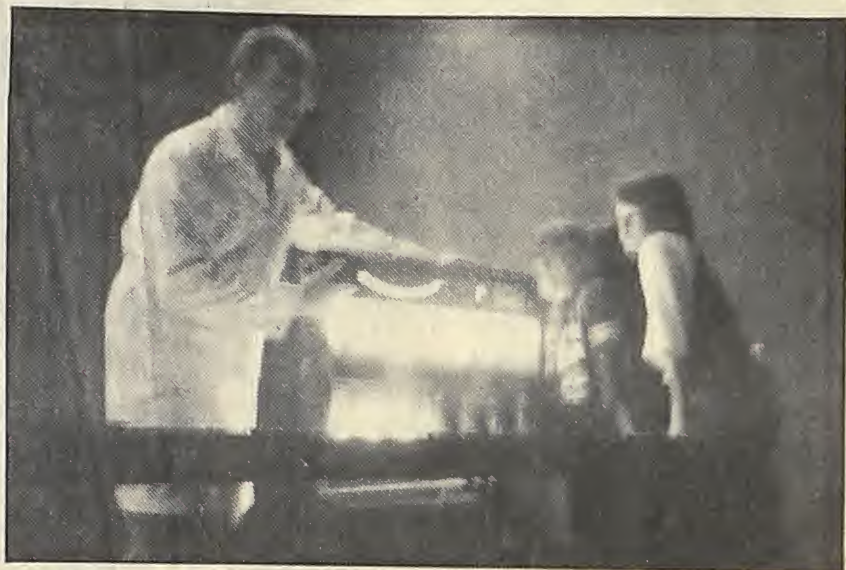

Richard Walter, assistant in Don Herbert's Mr. Wizard (on television for 15 years in the Mr. Wizard Show) World of Energy show demonstrated energy through very visually presented scientific experiments which displayed the many ways that energy can be saved in everyday activities.

The show expressed a need for looking at new and more creative ways for everyone to think about and use earth's energy resources.

Student volunteers assisted in demonstrating a variety of energy saving techniques.

The value of insulation to conserve energy was proved when the assistant heated a quarter held in a student's hand. The hand was protected by a small pile of flaked insulation, and the quarter was heated to a red-hot temperature without causing discomfort to the student.

Fascinated by science are Halecreek students John Clark and Ricky Rogala (back row) who carefully watch an experiment set up by scientist Richard Walker.

Light bulbs dramatically showed how much energy is used by a hand-held hair dryer. A student lighted a row of bulbs one at a time. The tenth bulb blew a fuse, but it required lighting 12 bulbs to produce enough energy to operate the hair dryer.

The educational, scientific presentation was developed to encourage interest among young people to learn more about energy and to explore the world of science.

world of wheels
... by denny campbell

Well, I started February out by messing up Kent Rose's last name. He's kind enough to let me steer his new Fiero and I blow the credits. Ah, well, at least I'm consistent!

Sorry, Kent. I guess this means I have to lose a few more racquetball games! Kent brought a '65 Beetle back from California when he mustered out of the Air Force last year, and, as you can see, at right, it should be a registered gem.

Powered by a 1600 cc engine, it beats right along on NCT radials on Porsche wheels. It also has one select-a-drop front end, making it ideal for plowing snow here in Michigan during the off season! Those 'bitty little California Nerf bars don't help much for pushing stalled cars, but they sure do look terrific, don't they?

Ownership of this high-yeller bug has just transferred to my nephew, Kirk, who intends to treasure it a while before selling. Probably not in my lifetime.

Getting around chatting with a lot of car sales people as I do, I'm starting to feel pretty secure about recovery in the car business. Car sales have gotten to the point where many dealerships are adding personnel and increasing inventories at about the same rate — a really good sign! Interest rates have apparently stabilized and people are letting loose with the down payments. I choose to see it as a nationwide vote of confidence in the turnaround of the economy. So don't be un-American — get out there and buy a car!! Check out the Wheel World ads.

So, suppose you were sniffing around and heard a couple of rumors, about motorcycles, and you needed to verify them, but you didn't want to appear stupid! Who'd you go to that you can trust? Exactly! Back to the World of Ruttman to see Phil Elliott! And all the stuff you hear is true! 10.2 in the quarter mile, 127 mph during shake-down tests! I mean, not even tuned!

Meet the newest addition to the Campbell family — an adoptee from California, this little yellow bug is now in the loving care of the author's nephew.

Heaven can wait...
I need mine now!

Is there a heaven up in the sky, for gas can caps? If not, where do they go? Neither of my gas cans have caps... nor do my neighbors. I can remember buying, through the years, at least seven or eight caps, but I've only owned three gas cans.

I remember this because the same little cap can cost between 25 and 79 cents, depending on where you buy it. They don't fit on anything else. Not lawn mower tanks, anti-freeze bottles, chain saws or bulk oil containers. Just one-or two-gallon gas cans. Where do they go???

I've never FOUND a gas can cap. I've found jars, long pieces of pipe, an occasional bolt that I really needed, but never had I found a gas can cap.

Everyone in the entire world owns a power mower — do they tow them up to the gas station behind their cars to fill them up? Their snowblowers? If you don't have them, and you can't find them, there has to be a heluva market for them!

So, smart guy, when was the last time you saw a gas can cap manufacturer?

See you all next week, courtesy of Associated Newspapers and Community Vision Cable!

— Denny Campbell

Four cylinder inline, LIQUID COOLED! Top end designed to exceed a GPZ 1100's 147 mph! From a 900 cc?? You bet! The NINJA — is coming!

The Kawasaki Ninja — named after the famed Japanese "shadow warriors" — a fully-faired sport bike brought into existence to demonstrate to one and all that Kawasaki will continue to define exactly what the word fast means when applied to motorcycles!

Long contending that the V configuration was not the way to go, Kawasaki and BMW have hung tough to the inline concept — giving them both motors that can sit low and forward in the bike's frame and remain simple enough in design to provide low upkeep.

So basically, if you can build enough torque, you'd have a bike that would be bullet-fast yet handle well through the twistys. And build torque is apparently the Ninja's forte, if the initial figures are RIGHT. And at $4399, it's cheaper than their own turbo superbike! Do they know what they're doing? Who cares — there's three guys lined up on Lillie Road to sell 'em — Lyn Staton, Dave Essa and Steve Lias-kosky — all of them with Ninja on their minds! By the way, you Honda people should be interested to know that Dale Deitz, from Honda zone sales, will be working at World of Ruttman. Stop by and say hi!

Don't forget the Mustang Swap meet at Atchinson Ford in Belleville next week — contact Skip Anderson or Bill Gage if you need space, Feb. 23, 24, & 25th.

Upcoming columns: To lease or not to lease, Ride Reviews; BMW 318i, Dodge Caravan, so keep us in mind as a reference source if you're a potential buyer. We'd also like to hear your ideas and experiences, particularly if you're a frustrated writer and would like to share your trips, pratfalls or good times with your car, truck, snowmobile or motorcycle with some like-minded people in Eagleland.

See you next week, editors willing!
